If defects are identified during acceptance testing, addIT shall remedy the defects within a reasonable period of time at no cost to the customer and then make the respective part of the software program again available for acceptance testing. If the customer fails to declare acceptance for any reason other than a material defect that significantly impedes or prevents the use of the software program, the software program shall be deemed accepted 4 weeks after having been made available for acceptance testing, but in any case as soon as it is being used or passed on to a third party by the customer. These provisions shall apply mutatis mutandis to the creation of documents, such as detailed specifications or requirement specifications, by addIT as required under the contract. After acceptance by the customer, such documents shall be regarded as the exclusive basis for Service provision by addIT.

Such assistance shall be to the extent the Claim is based on any infringement of intellectual property rights, as but not limited to patents protected under the laws of Austria or copyrights, which is caused by the provision of products or licensed software by addIT or use of such products or licensed software for their contractually intended purpose by the customer.

addIT shall at its discretion provide the customer with a non-infringing replacement product or modify the licensed software so that it becomes non-infringing, provided that the replacement product/modified licensed software meets substantially the same functional specifications as the licensed software or procure for customer the right to use the licensed software; if such options would cause unreasonable expenses addIT shall inform the customer. Within 4 weeks after such notice customer may terminate the contract to the extent it is affected by the infringing products or licensed software. For the purpose of this paragraph Claims shall be defined as eligible only, if addIT has acknowledged such Claim in writing or the Claim is affirmed by a legally binding adjudication.

If no amicable solution can be found on this level, there shall be escalation to the managing director level. Each party is entitled at the earliest 60 days after introduction of the aforementioned dispute settlement process to take legal action. - 8.5 The fulfilment of the contract on addIT's part is subject to the proviso that this shall not be prevented by impediments on the grounds of national and/or international legal requirements, in particular export control provisions.
